Fantastic Fotography: From Snapshots to Hotshots

Student will learn to create professional level images with consumer/prosumer/professional equipment. Part of the class will be fun-filled instruction going over a theme, idea, problem and solution. Students will be given time to work behind their cameras to practice the techniques. Instructor will provide individual and group attention as they practice to make sure they understand and can perform the techniques. After the practice session, we will review and discuss our experience, look at some images and discuss work to be uploaded to Flickr.

Each class will have a theme such as Street, Landscape, Nature, Portraiture etc. The class will focus on practical techniques on how a user can get the best images possible with the camera they have. Each class may showcase a small, inexpensive gadget that could be helpful in their photo bag (also some DIY item).

Each class will be two hours long:

- Formal Instruction – 20%
- Hands On instruction and Practice - 65%
- Review/Edit – 15%

Please bring:

- Your Camera
- It's manual
- Notebook and Pen
- Your Creativity

Class series will end with a "Food and Foto" event where we will show and print our images over a snack/drinks.

Meeting day: Saturday, 9am-11am, every other Sat. starting June 18th cost: $65/8 sessions (recommended for teens and adults)

Instructor has kindly donated his time, all profits will go towards TNAC program development

About the Instructor

Mark E Smith has been an avid photographer for the past thirty years photographing people, places and things. He has been professionally published nationally and internationally in magazines and websites for his commercial, fashion, editorial and nature photography. Over the past 15 years he has worked on campaigns for such companies as Ann Taylor, Hugo Boss, Bayliner Boats, Ujena swimwear, Jonathan Paul Eyewear and numerous others. Unfortunately Photography has only been a part-time job for him as his first career is in the Financial Industry as a Risk Manager and consultant. He has lived in Trumbull for the past 12 years with his wife Jeanie who is a Reading Teacher in Stamford.
