TRUMBULL MAN ARRESTED FOR BOMB THREAT

Trumbull Police arrested a local man for posting a bomb threat towards Trumbull High School on his Facebook page. Police received two complaints about the posting late Wednesday evening.

Rushab Momaya, 23 years old, a 2011 Trumbull High School graduate, stated that he was going to bomb the school but did not include any details in the posting.

When Trumbull Police and the Fire Marshal's office responded to Momaya's residence, they quickly determined that the threat was not credible and that there were no explosive materials or incendiary devices on the premises.

Police and Fire officials also worked closely with the Board of Education and school security personnel to ensure that the safety and security of Trumbull High School had not been breached during this incident.

Momaya was charged with Threatening 2nd, Harassment 2nd and Breach of peace. He is being held on $100,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in court on Thursday March 29, 2018.
